Walking ROOTS

FIVE-DAY WALKING challenge

Living Streets' new five-day walking challenge packs are the perfect activity for Walk to School Week 2018, helping to get more pupils active and reducing congestion. Our Walking Roots challenge will take pupils and their families on a five-day journey, exploring the diverse ecosystem of a tree.

Pupils who walk to school each day add a sticker to the classroom activity-tree. Each sticker brings the tree to life across the week, from the roots and the trunk, to the colourful leaves and blossoming flowers. Activity diaries for both children and their parents will focus on the importance of nature, and the benefits of walking, as they make their way to and from school for the week.

“It was a great week! The children loved the stickers they got for walking to school and it started an interesting conversation on pollution around our school!”
